

SNOW DAY

focused version part 2

It's a snow day! Everyone spent the morning playing outside and making snowmen. Now, since it's cold outside, everyone has decided to stay inside and do their favorite things. What are you going to do?

I'm making a pretty picture! I don't know what to draw yet, but I'm excited. I love drawing.

I like exploring, so I'm reading a book about it! Look at all the places I haven't seen yet. Imagine being there...

I brought my plant here! I'm going to sing it a lullaby because I heard singing is really good for plants, and I like taking care of them.

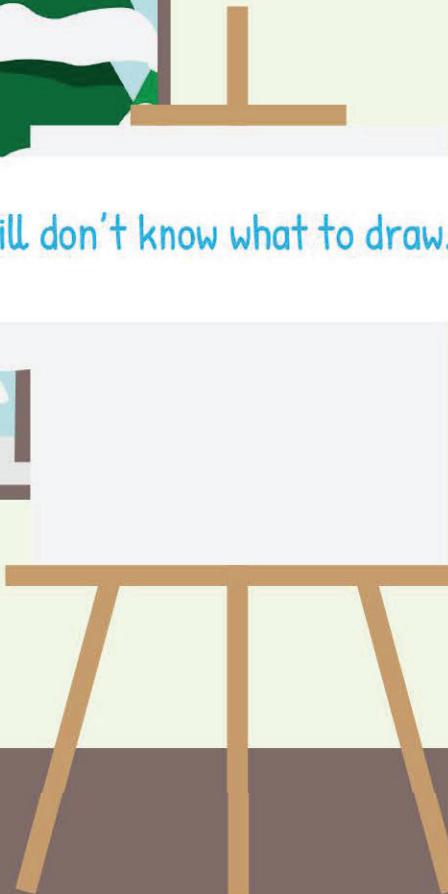

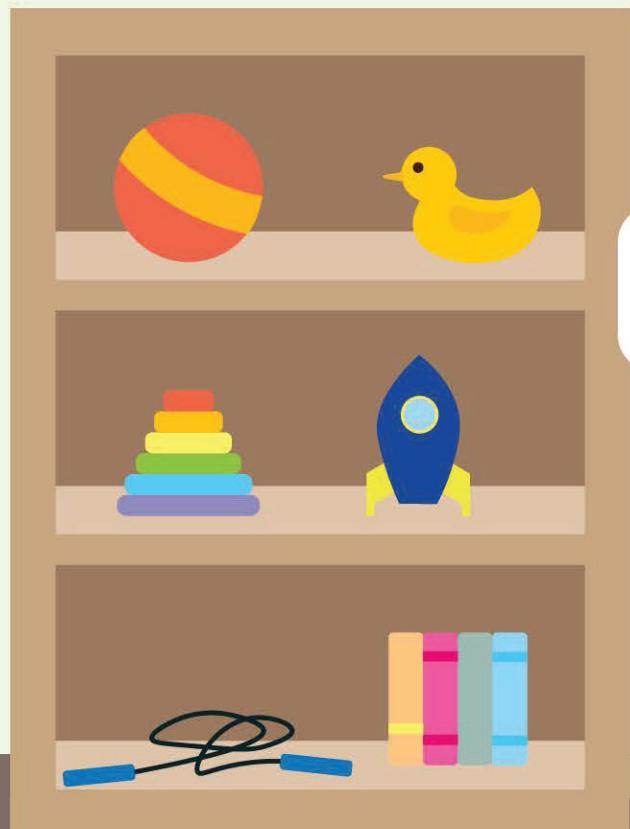

I have my basketball here! I'm going to practice dribbling. That way, when it gets nice outside, I'll be amazing at it!

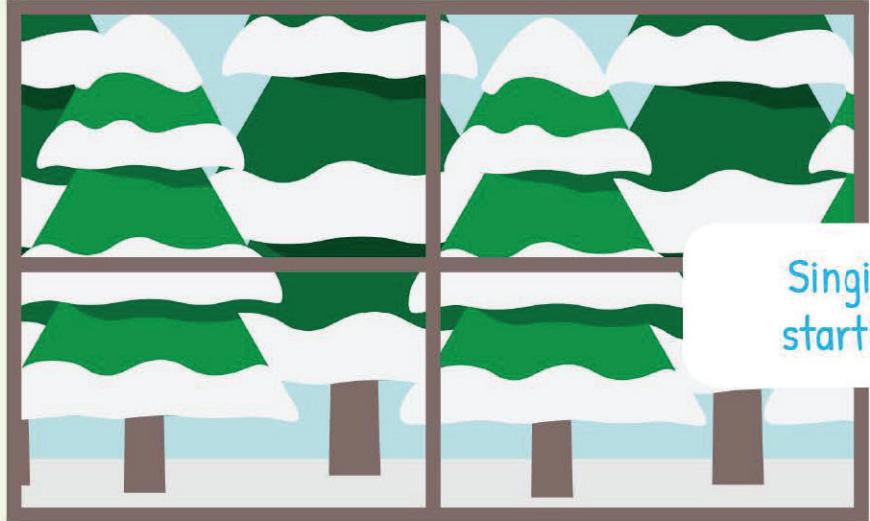

I still don't know what to draw.

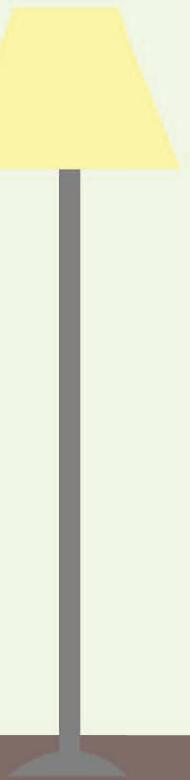

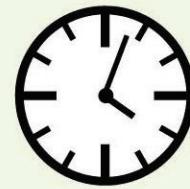

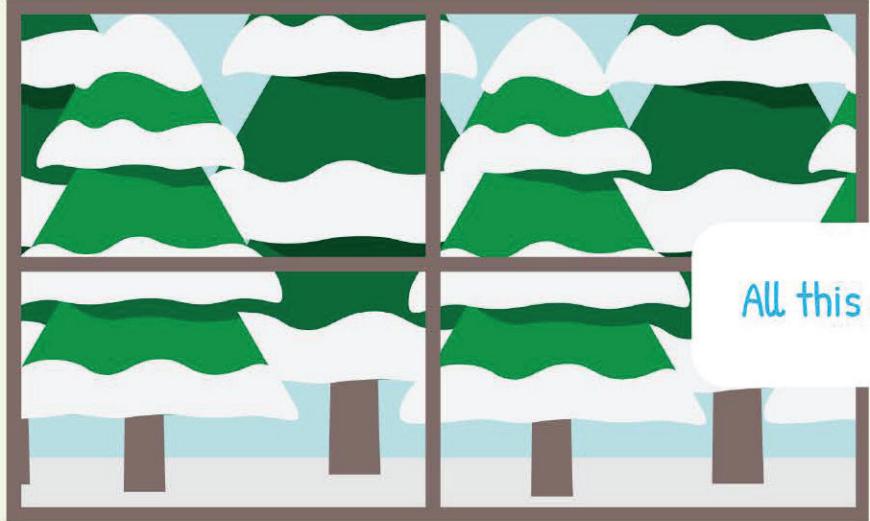

I finished my book! I wish I could tell someone about it.

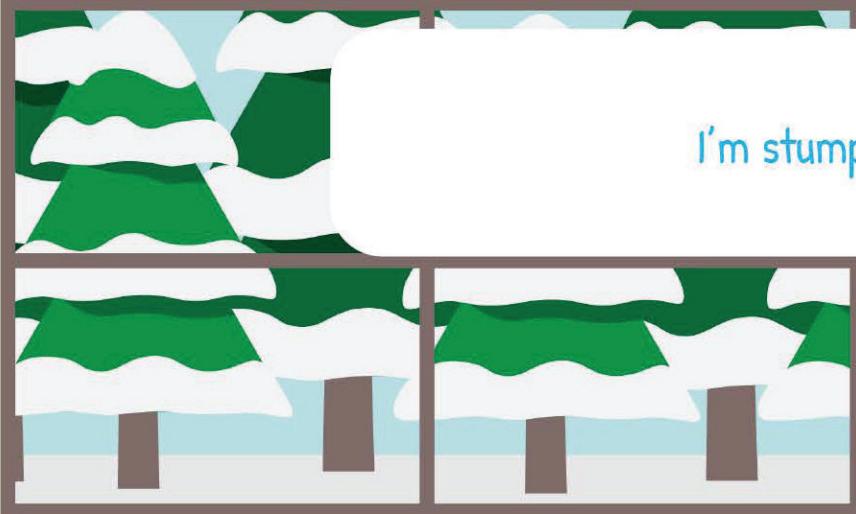

Singing is fun, but I'm starting to get bored...

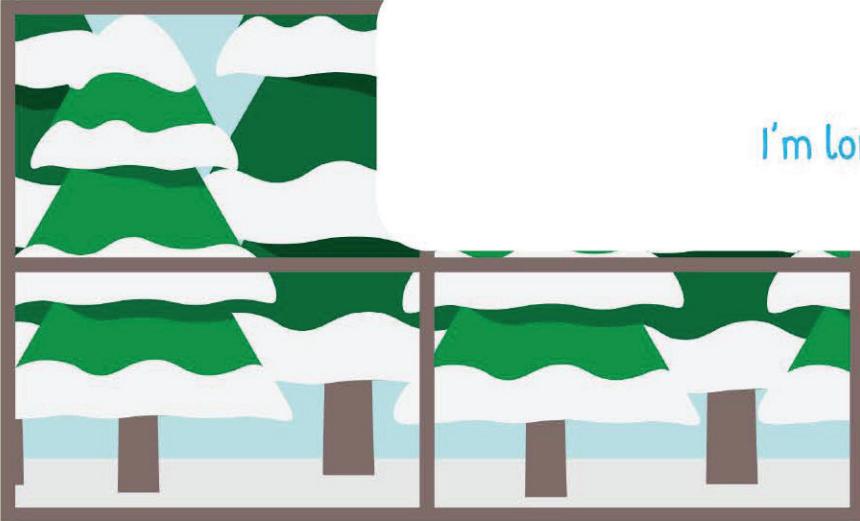

All this dribbling is hard work!

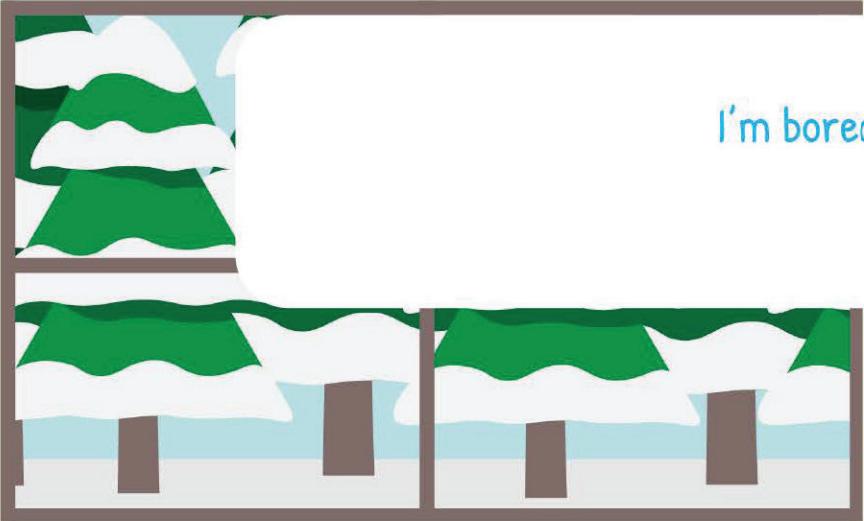

I'm stumped.

I'm lonely.

I'm bored.

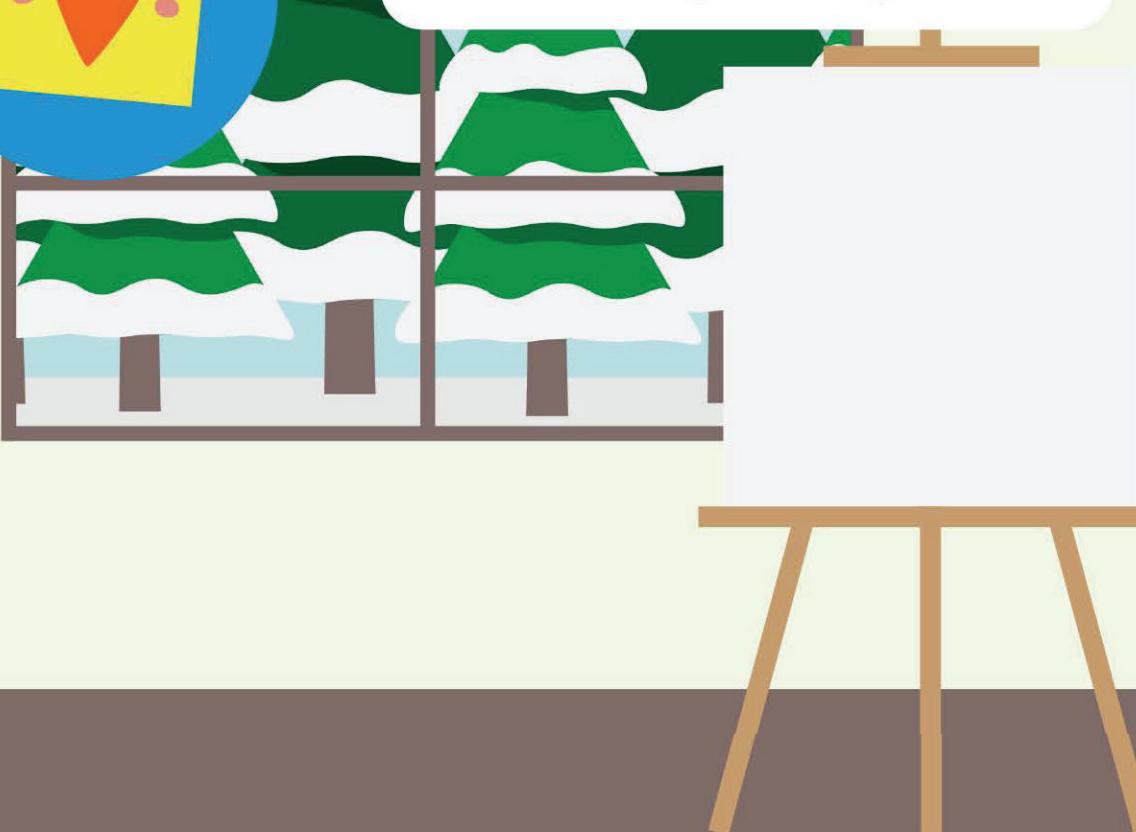

I'm tired.

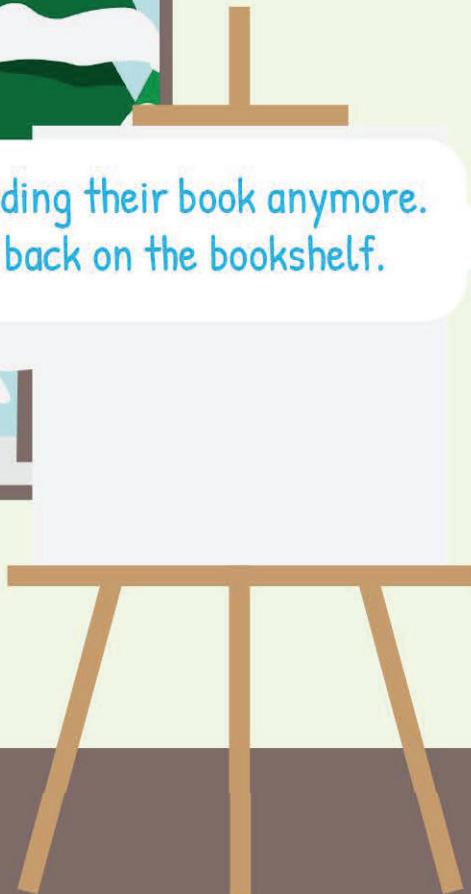

Maybe you should see what everyone else is doing! What do you see?

Bear isn't reading their book anymore.
They put it back on the bookshelf.

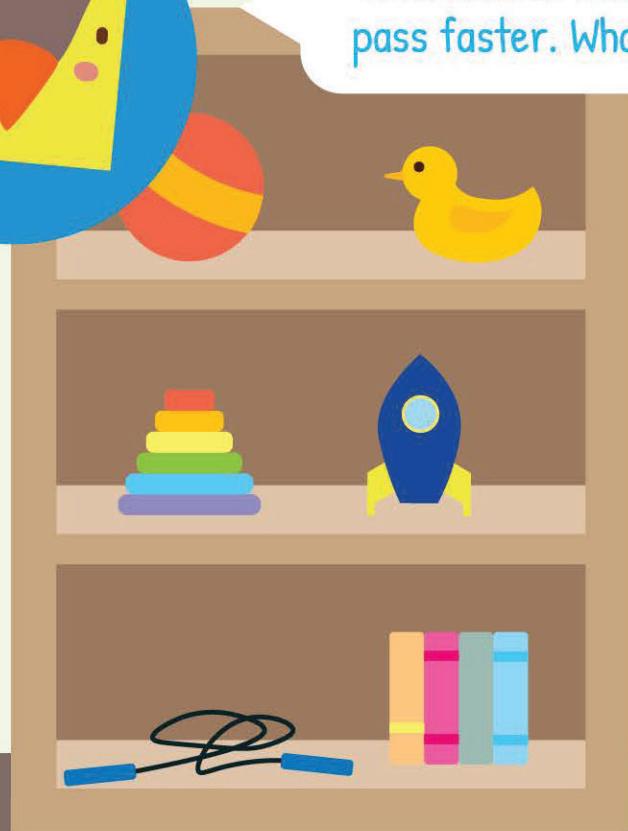

Maybe Bear finished their book...

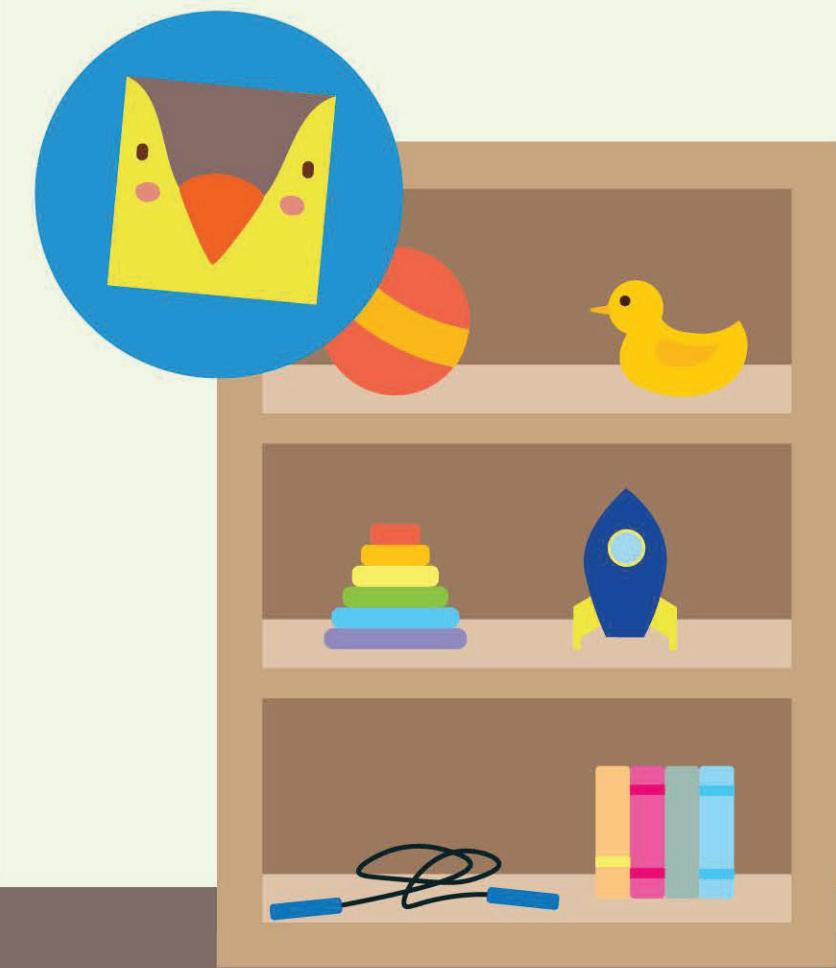

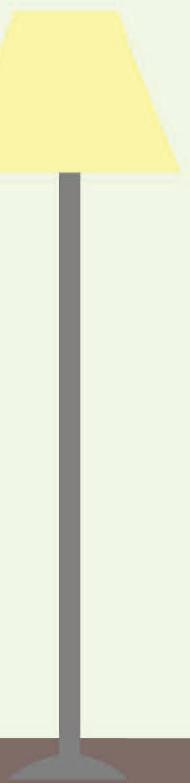

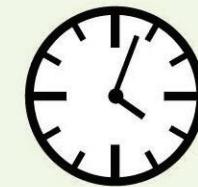

That sounds like Dog wants time to pass faster. What would that mean?

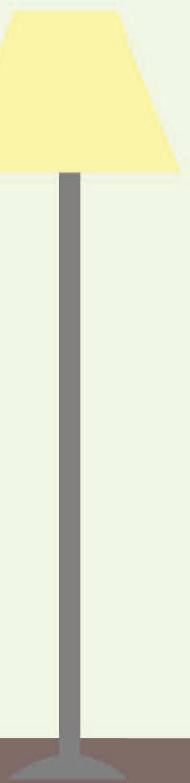

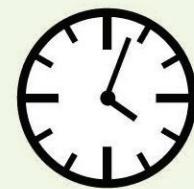

Monkey isn't dribbling anymore.
Monkey is stretching their arms.

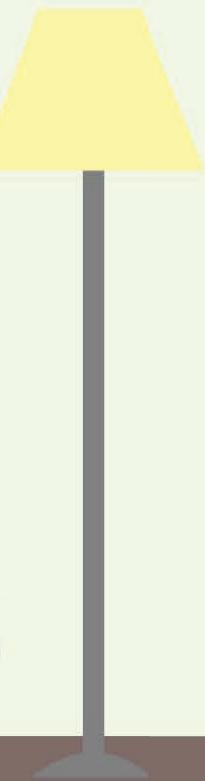

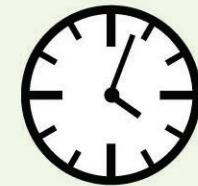

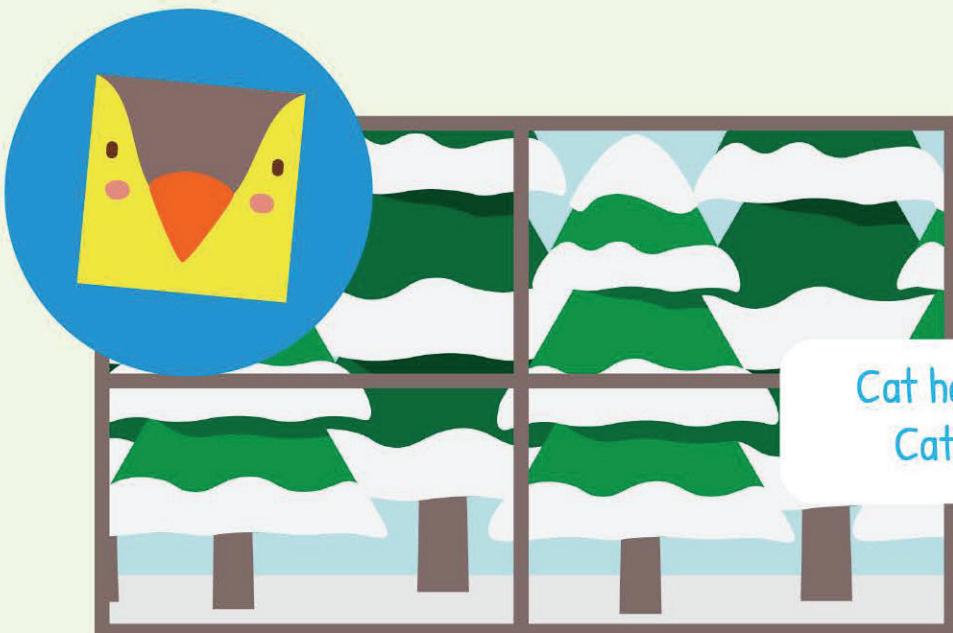

Why would Monkey need to stretch?

Maybe Monkey is sore
from working out...

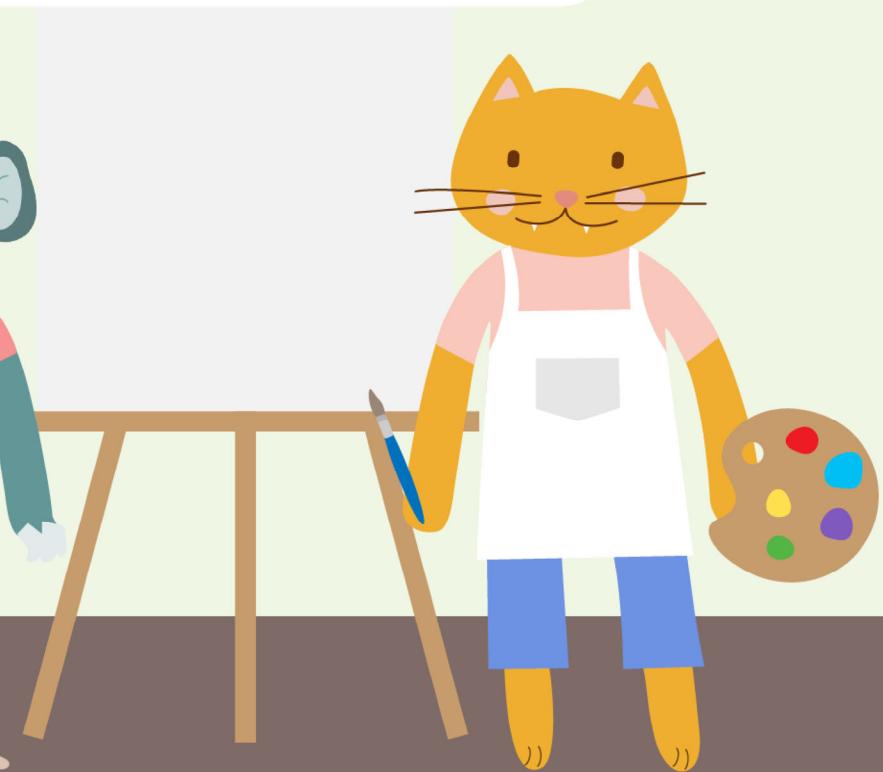

Cat hasn't drawn anything.
Cat is looking around.

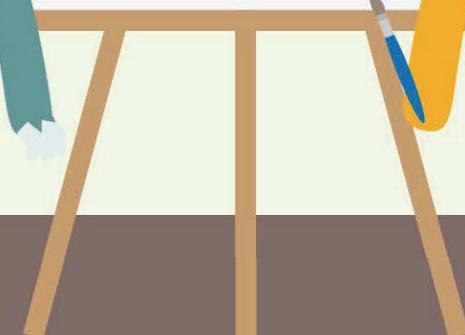

Everyone. Maybe Cat is looking for inspiration! I have an idea! Cat, do you need help coming up with something to draw?

Yeah! Do you have any ideas?

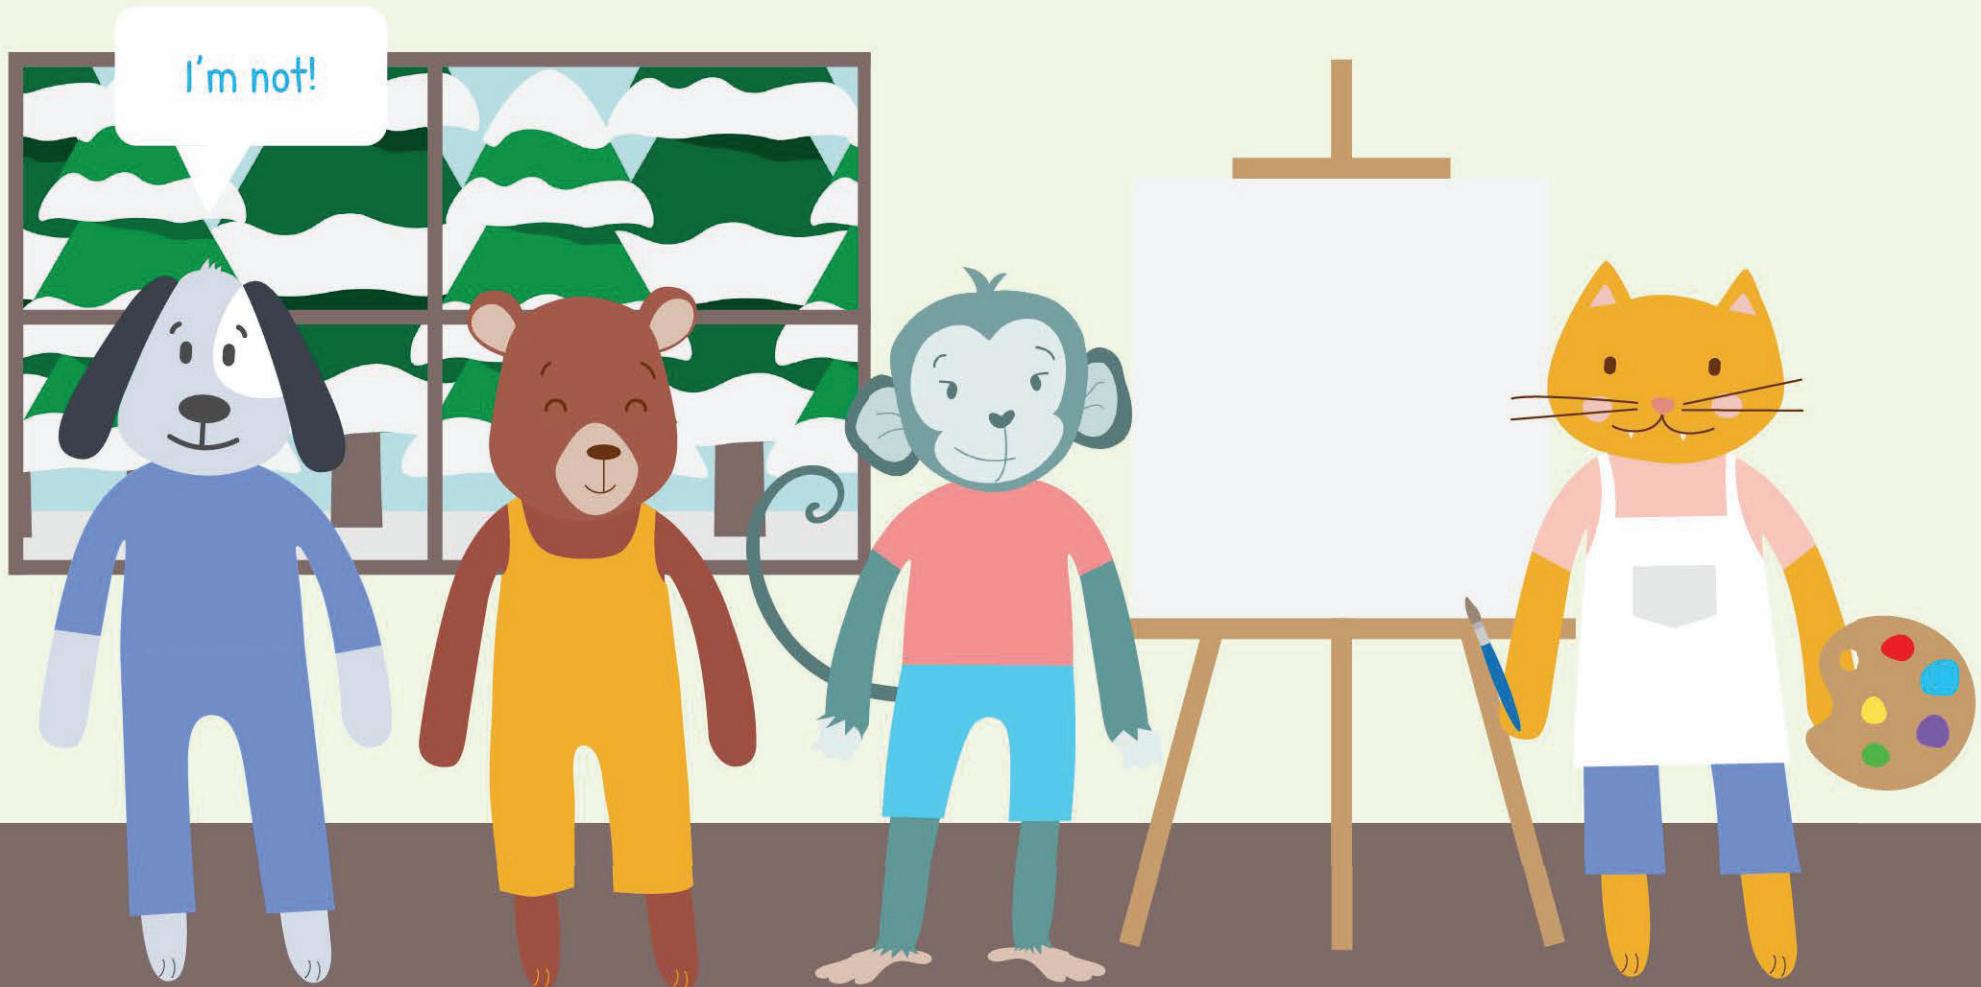

You should draw all of us!
Unless someone is busy...

I'm not!

Should we pose for you?

Oh, in my exploring book, they posed like this when they found a new island!

What if, instead of a new island,
we discovered my plant?

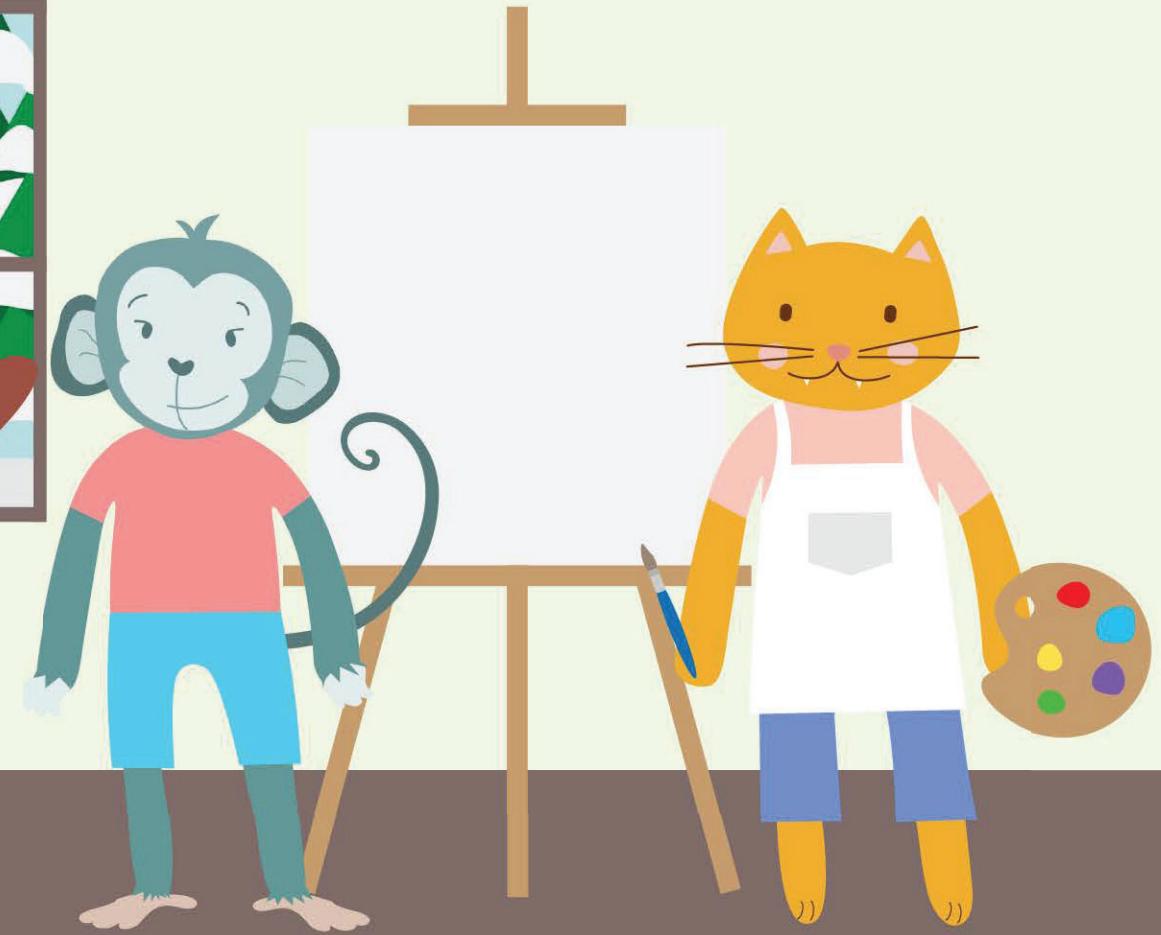

I love that idea! Wow! I'm not stumped anymore.

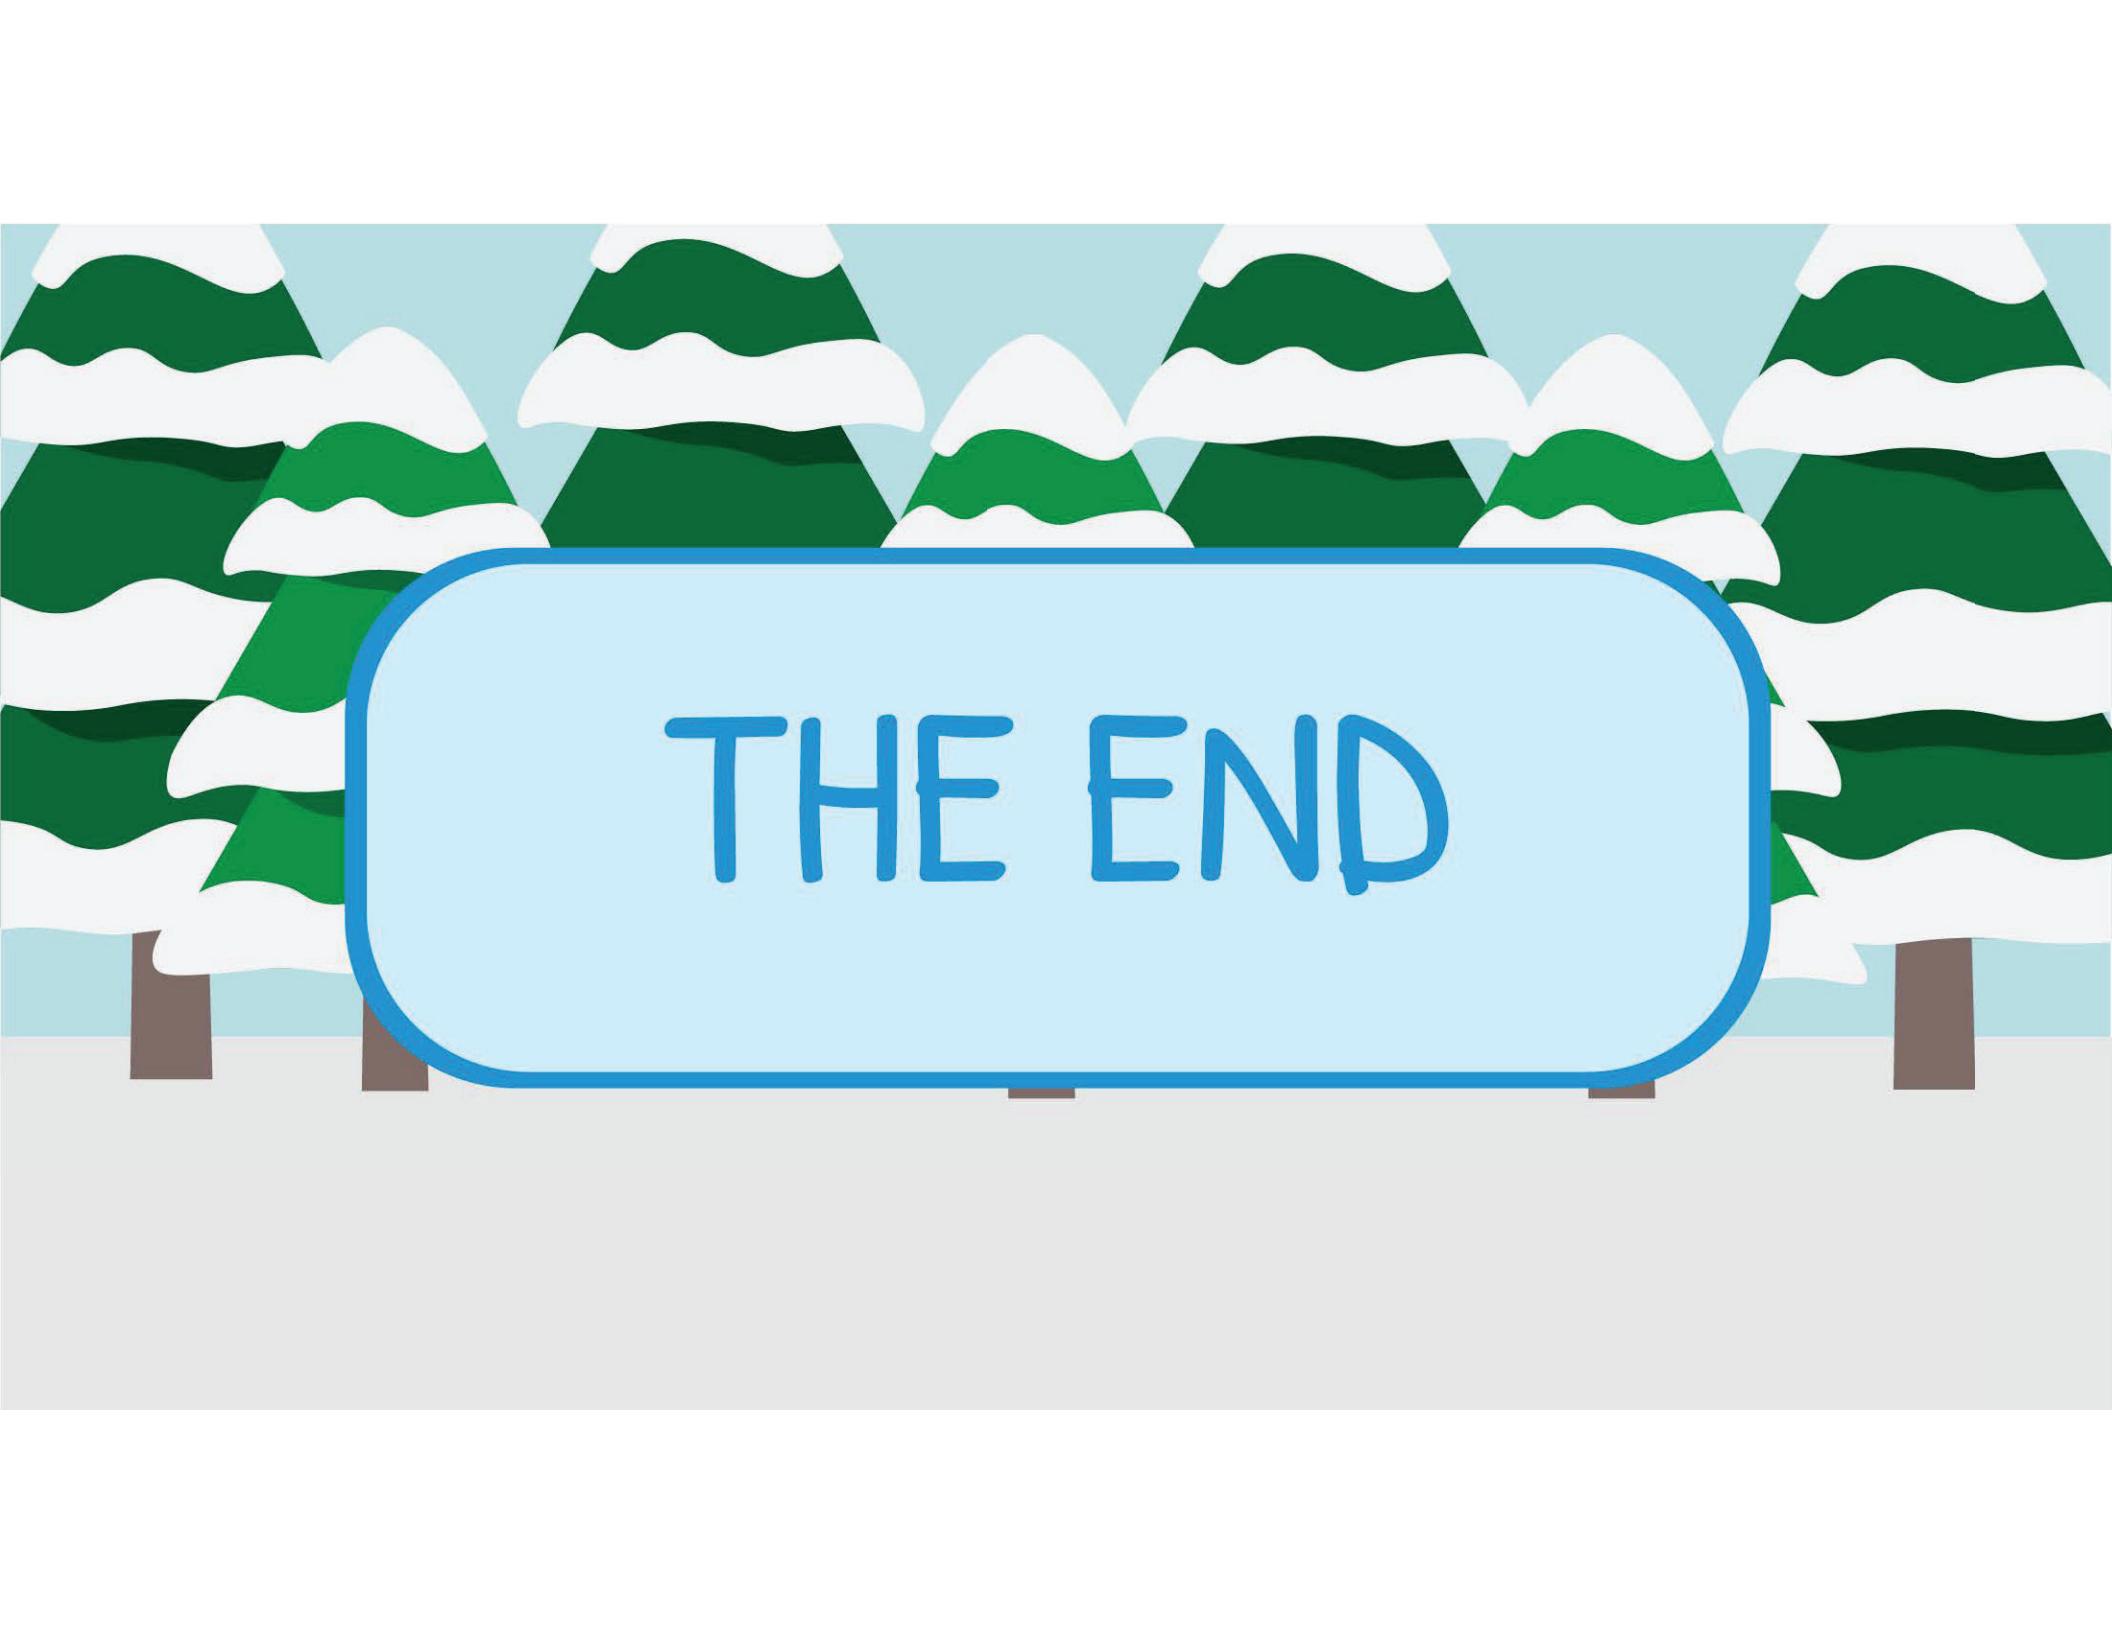

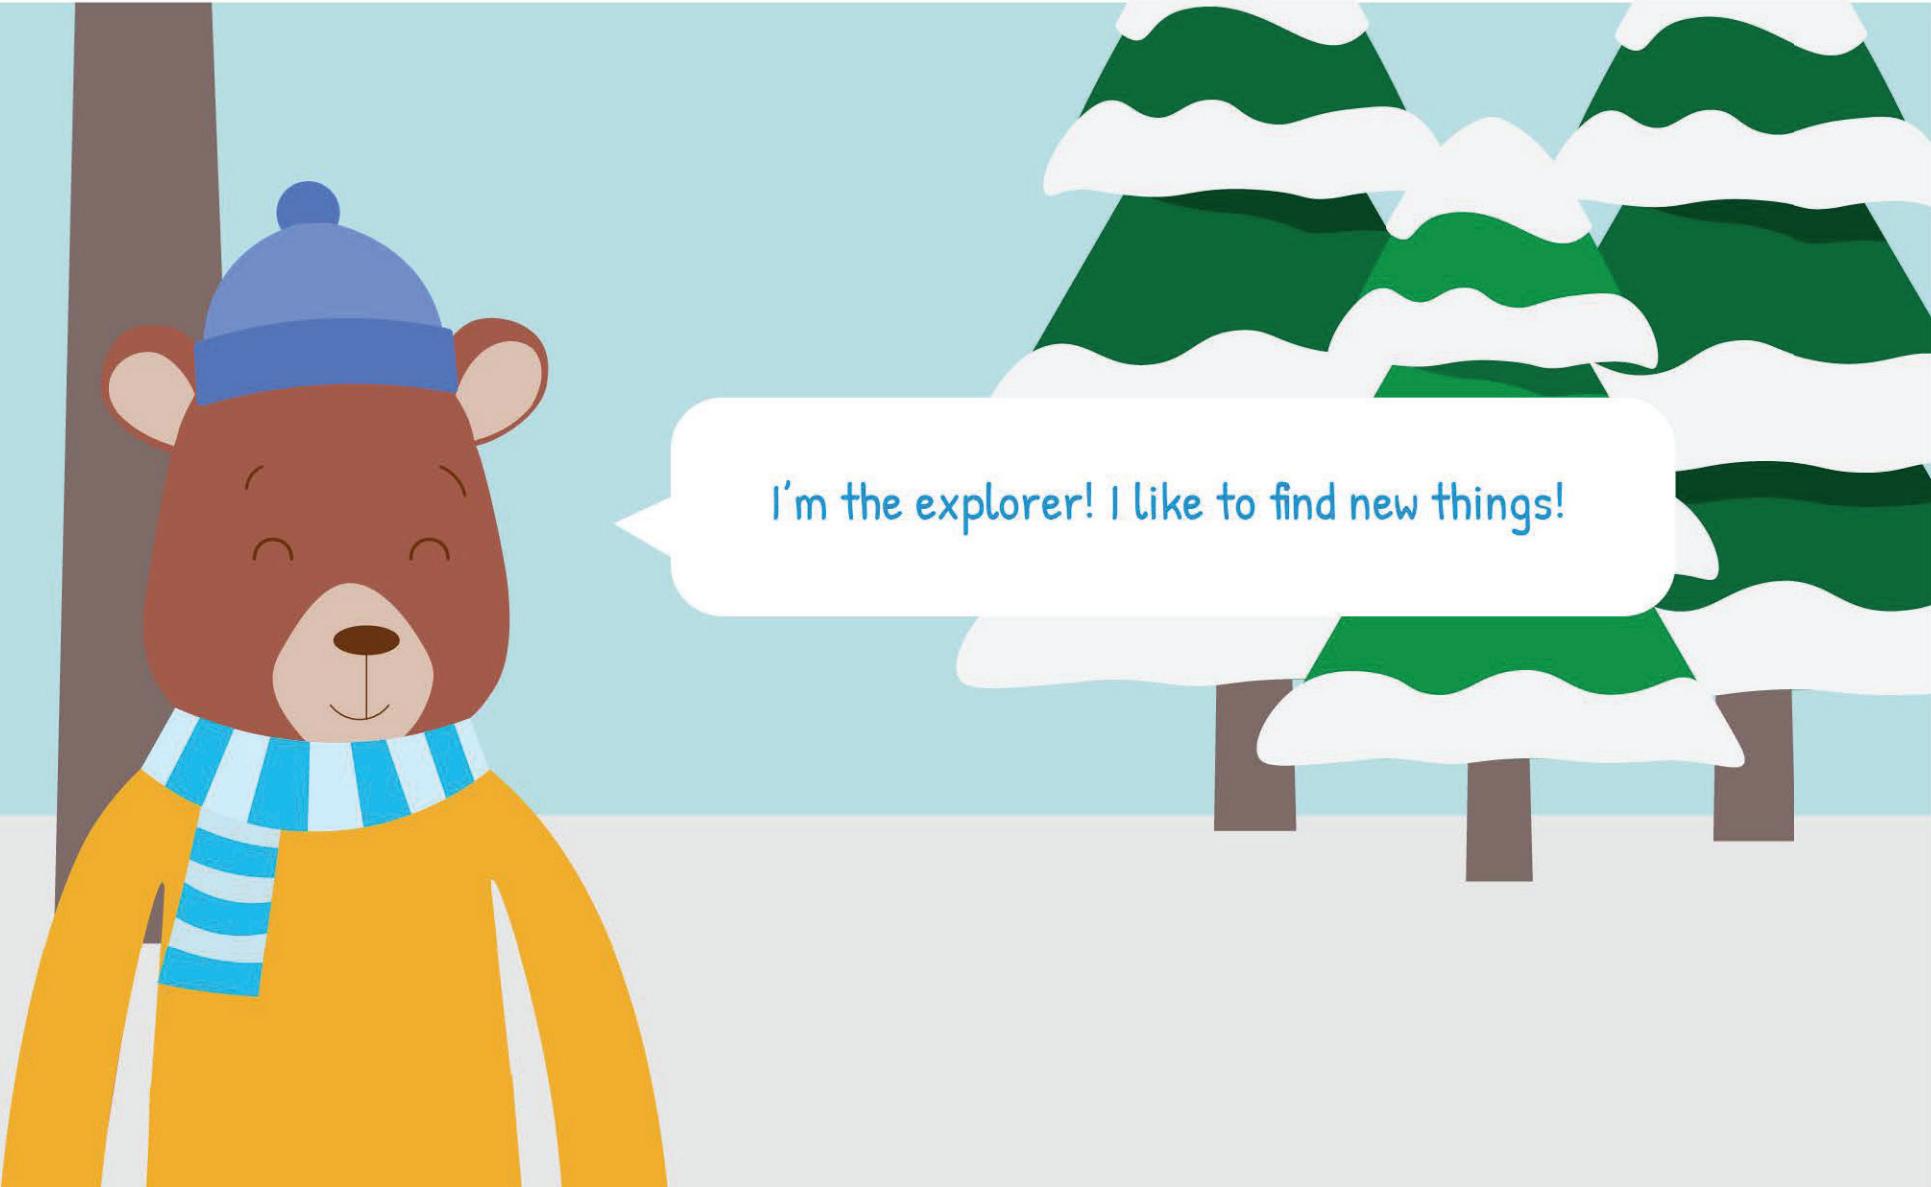

I'm not tired anymore!

THE END

I'm the explorer! I like to find new things!

I'm the athlete! I like to ice-skate!

I'm the artist! I like to create!

I'm the gardener! I like to take care of my plants!
